About Me

I am a skilled programmer with a strong ability to adapt quickly to new environments and work requirements. Alongside my technical expertise, I excel at building positive relationships and collaborating effectively with others. My combination of adaptability, technical skills, and strong interpersonal abilities allows me to thrive in both independent and team-based settings. I'm also eager to learn new things in my field. Not just because I want to increase my possibility of getting a decent job, but to satisfy my desire to learn.

Skills

- C# Language

Projects

● Lost for Words

I created an offline application that aims to improve the typing performance of a player but with a twist. I made it an adventure game with storytelling to keep the game engaging.

● DepEd - Encoding System

The planning unit's officer proposed an idea to create an application that would help them manage the data in Excel. The application consists of authentication for data security, a graphical representation of Excel, data manipulation in Excel, and an internal file manager for data security.

Internship

DepEd SDO - Cavite City

Mar. 2025 - Jun. 2025

I've done my training here for 4 months to complete my hours of OJT. It was an unforgettable moments when I got a chance to be part of their family as a trainee. I learned so many things such as fixing printer, and laptops. During my training, it also enhanced my knowledge when it comes to programming an application
